

Creative Writing Prompt 59 x 622

Anthony Burt

All of us are going to be spending more time indoors for a while. Don't worry, this isn't a bad thing. Yes, you may get bored, but it's a great time to start being more creative. Painting, drawing, writing, reading, building stuff. You could think about writing a diary or a short story to keep your brain busy.

When I was younger, I grew up around lots of different-coloured Border Collie dogs. They were always excited, happy, and running everywhere. I now have a beautiful, friendly and adventurous black cat called Watson. You may have other pets like hamsters, guinea pigs, tortoises, lizards, mice, birds, and fish! Whatever animal you have, how do you think they're feeling now you and your family are suddenly at home all the time?

Writing Challenge: I'd like you to imagine yourself inside the mind of your pet. Think about writing a story from your animal friend's point-of-view. What it's like being in a busy home, where no one can leave the house? How do they feel? What antics do they get up to with the children in the house? Do they play tricks, or cause havoc? Or are they a bit scared about what's happening? Think of something naughty your pet has done and get writing!
